

MILITARY "DEFENSE DAY" NOW IN POLITICS

DAVIS, BRYAN

TAKING ISSUE WITH COOLIDGE

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE MOBILIZATION OF CIVILIAN AND INDUSTRIAL UNITS

HURL THE WHOLE QUESTION INTO THE COMING CAMPAIGN

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 1.—There was no doubt in the minds of party leaders today that military "defense day" proposed for September 12 has assumed a startling political significance.

In taking a position squarely behind his running mate, Governor Bryan of Nebraska, regarding the mobilization of civilian and industrial units, John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, hurled the question into the campaign, leaders agree.

With that conviction, they seek to visualize the extent to which the issue would have a bearing on the November elections. They see a possibility of a fierce controversy between republican and democratic parties, involving military preparedness on the one hand and militarism and warlike demonstrations calculated to disturb world peace on the other.

Both President Coolidge and Mr. Davis are now on record on the issue. Senator LaFollette, independent presidential candidate, has not expressed himself on the question, although he has always opposed anything smacking of militaristic movements.

GOV. PREUS IN APPROVAL OF DAY

St. Paul, Aug. 1.—Unqualified approval of "National Defense Day" was expressed by Governor J. A. O. Preus upon his return from Chicago today.

The governor issued a formal proclamation confirming the appointment of President Coolidge of Friday, September 12, as a day for nationwide mobilization of all military forces. Governor Preus called upon Minnesota citizens to co-operate. Then he conferred with Adj. General W. F. Rhinow and appointed a committee to make plans for the state's observance of the day.

"As long as the possibility of war exists there is a need for reasonable preparedness," the proclamation read. "This preparedness may assume the appearance of warlike preparations, but defense day test is not in any way a military demonstration, nor can it in any way be construed as tending to promote war."

"Insofar as it helps to visualize some of the machinery of war the test helps to promote peace movements."

"I believe that every person interested in his country's welfare should co-operate in plans for defense test day."

Charles A. March, Litchfield, Sam A. Rask, Blooming Prairie, and P. J. Eide, Crookston, were among those named on the committee. Col. L. H. Britton, J. G. Ordway and Frank W. Mattson of St. Paul, Rev. Marion B. Shutter, George Burgess and George Dickson, Minneapolis, are also representatives.

From there they go to Copenhagen for the international scout contests starting August 10.

CHARGE TWO WITH GRAND LARCENY

CLAIM PATRONS WERE DEFRAUDED BY CONTINUOUS OVERCHARGING

Winona, Minn., Aug. 1.—Friends today were trying to arrange bail for Robert D. Clark, 51, cashier of the Tri-State Telephone and Telegraph Company here, and for Mrs. Carl Steinbauer, 28, former employee of the company, both of whom were arraigned on charges of grand larceny late yesterday.

Telephone subscribers of Winona have been defrauded of upwards of $8,000 in the last three years by the raising of monthly bills for telephone charges, according to officers of the company. Both Clark and Mrs. Steinbauer were held in default of $10,000 bail.

Clark, according to police, signed a confession revealing the intricate scheme by which large amounts were accumulated through small overcharges. He implicated Mrs. Steinbauer, who denied that she shared the profits. Clark was arrested upon his return from a vacation during which his accounts were investigated.

OBJECT OF TWO
WAS TO COMMIT
"PERFECT CRIME"

DR. WILLIAM A. WHITE, ALIENIST, TESTIFIES AT LEOPOLD-LOEB TRIAL

LOEB IMAGINED HIMSELF MASTER CRIMINAL MIND OF CENTURY

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 1.—The object of Leopold and Loeb in killing Robert Franks, 14-year-old school boy, was to commit the "perfect crime," Dr. William A. White, Washington, D. C., alienist, testified today at the judicial hearing of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert.

Dr. White said Loeb told him that he and Leopold had discussed committing murder long before Franks was killed and had considered various persons, including their parents, but they decided that to kill a member of the immediate family would hamper their free movement.

"The real object of the murder was to commit the 'perfect crime,'" Dr. White testified. "The idea for the master criminal to do a good job. It was to be thoroughly and completely planned and was to be the object for great concern in the immediate vicinity. A great intellectual feat was to be accomplished."

Justice Caverly recessed for lunch at this time.

Before lunch and over the repeated objections of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Dr. White sketched the dream life of Loeb, describing a succession of fantasies, which, he said, existed in the mind of the youthful defendant.

"He looked upon himself," Dr. White said, "as a master criminal—the master criminal mind of the century—directing great bands of criminals in their underworld activities."

"He also thought himself a great detective, planning great crimes and then imagining himself as the detective who traced and captured the criminals."

Dr. White also told how Loeb walked the streets, imagining he was the head of a criminal band directing what houses to rob.

Dr. White also pointed out that Loeb admitted being an inveterate liar at an early age.

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 1.—Maintaining the momentum imparted by the French offer, the inter-Allied conference reached an agreement in committee tonight on the subject of a possible modification of the experts' plan.

Committee number three, however struck a stone wall when it came to a question of arranging for cash deliveries instead of deliveries in kind in case the latter became too heavy for France.

Unable to agree, the committee adjourned for lunch, to meet again at 4 p. m. If the deadlock on the question of cash deliveries—one of the new points raised by the French delegation—is maintained the matter may be referred to the chief delegates, who will try to settle it in time to send an invitation to the Germans tonight.

How to Flavor Coffee

There is a best way of doing everything—even of putting sugar and cream in your coffee. In fact, to put sugar and cream in your coffee is quite wrong, according to Popular Science Monthly. The really correct procedure is to put cream in the cup, then the coffee and add the sugar last of all. This will prevent the cream from "feathering" should it be slightly sour. Coffee poured on cream and sugar in a cup is almost certain to result in the cream's curdling.

"We'll try again tomorrow," he said. "August and September are the best flying months up here. We have plenty of time."

When noon rolled around there was no improvement in the weather, which was what the native phraseology describes as "hazy."

The airmen remained aboard the Richmond. The three planes bobbed at their anchorage. The sea was moderately calm.

BAIL OF BRAINERD
LAD FIXED AT $1,500

(By United Press)
(Special, 2:05 P. M.)

St. Paul, Aug. 1.—Clayton Reardon, 20, of Brainerd, Minn., appeared before Judge O. B. Lewis to have bail fixed.

Reardon is charged with first degree robbery in connection with the hold-up May 30 of a chicken shack belonging to Oliver Taylor on the Rice Street road.

Reardon was arrested with Dwight McFerran, another Brainerd lad, and Leslie Gifford, St. Paul, several days after the robbery. McFerran and Gifford pleaded guilty and were sent to St. Cloud.

Following the robbery the three lads drove away in an automobile and were pursued by Deputy Sheriff William Conley, who barely escaped death when Gifford fired two shots through his windshield. The lads escaped but were arrested later.

M. S. Kinkead, assistant county attorney, today explained to Judge Lewis that Reardon has borne a good reputation in the past and that he had become implicated in the robbery through the bad company he had been keeping. He added that Reardon had not participated in the holdup but had sat in the car during the robbery. Judge Lewis fixed bail at $1,500.

SAW BLACK CAT

(By United Press)

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 1.—William Aile, 23, Eli Aile, 22, and William Anderson, 22, all of Ironwood, Mich., were instantly killed when the car in which they were riding crashed into a Soo Line ore train at High Bridge crossing late last night. The men were returning from Mella and were coasting down hill leading to the crossing. Joimo said as they reached the bottom of the hill a black cat crossed the road. Just then the train loomed ahead of them and he tried to turn down the right of way. The car tipped on its side, throwing the three victims through the top and under the train. Joimo was held pending an investigation.

TWO SONS IN MARINETTE, WIS., CHARGED WITH MURDER AND ARSON

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CHARGES FATHER MET VIOLENT DEATH

(By United Press)
Marinette, Wis., Aug. 1.—County officials will open a grave at the Pound, Wis., cemetery, which was closed three years ago in exhuming the body of John Brandt, Sr., so there may be positive identification of the body before the dead man's two sons, William and John, Jr., are brought to trial in connection with the death, charged with murder and arson.

The two Brandt boys were returned here from Milwaukee early today under heavy guard. They were arrested in Milwaukee Wednesday night and after several hours grilling by officials were taken aboard a Northwestern train and brought back here. Under the grilling one of the men broke down but the other remained defiant, while both declared they were innocent of the charges.

District Attorney A. E. Murphy of Marinette county today continued his work on piecing together evidence which he hopes will prove the two sons killed their father by setting fire to the barn on the Brandt farm near Beaver, Wis., in which the elder Brandt was sleeping July 5, 1921.

One of the first steps he will take will be to obtain a sworn and signed statement from Frank Kostenki, said to have been a witness of the burning of the barn.

POLITICAL COMMITTEE'S
RECOMMENDATION

COMMITTEE HEADED BY SAMUEL GOMPERS, PRESIDENT OF FEDERATION

WEIGHT OF HIS SUGGESTION SO GREAT IT MAY BE HEADED

(By United Press)
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—The first official step towards endorsement of the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette was taken here today at the opening session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. A report recommending that the governing council advise laborers of the nation as to the casting of their ballots for the independent candidates and against the two major parties was offered by the special political committee.

This committee is headed by Samuel Gompers, dictator of labor policies in the past, and the weight of suggestion is so great it is reasonable to believe it may influence the decision of the entire council.

Consideration of the report is the first business before the council of 11 labor chieftains who assembled here today to recommend to its 3,000,000 voting members, which political candidates will best serve the desires of labor if elected.

The final decision of the council is not expected before Sunday.

There is a possibility of a tiff in the LaFollette endorsement. Two of the members of the committee oppose such a step and believe the federation should follow a "hands off" policy in the campaign.

The report of the political committee, which goes under the title of the non-partisan political campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor, gives complete sanction to the domestic policies of LaFollette, but it is admitted his foreign policies do not coincide with the federation's desires.

LaFollette is against the League of Nations and the world court, while the federation is strongly in favor of them.

The committee has taken the position that the domestic policies will count in the campaign and therefore disagreement on international matters may be disregarded.

The qualification against the foreign policies of LaFollette platform is the only one the political committee has taken on the endorsement as far as can be learned. The report, however, no doubt will be amended by the full council. Its details have not been made public, but information as to its contents was given the United Press by an unquestionable authority. It will not be given out until the council has acted.

SAW BLACK CAT CROSS THE TRAIL

THEN THE CAR TIPPED AND SPILLED ALL UNDER TRAIN

(By United Press)

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 1.—William Aile, 23, Eli Aile, 22, and William Anderson, 22, all of Ironwood, Mich., were instantly killed when the car in which they were riding crashed into a Soo Line ore train at High Bridge crossing late last night. Henry Jolmo, driver of the car, suffered injuries when he tried to extricate himself from the wreckage and the train struck him.

The men were returning from Mella and were coasting down hill leading to the crossing. Jolmo said as they reached the bottom of the hill a black cat crossed the road. Just then the train loomed ahead of them and he tried to turn down the right of way. The car tipped on its side, throwing the three victims through the top and under the train. Jolmo was held pending an investigation.

MacLAREN IS REPORTED LOST; NO WORD FOR WEEK

(By United Press)
Tokio, 12 Noon, Aug. 1.—The bureau of aeronautics has had no word of Major A. Stewart MacLaren, British world flier, since he was reported to have arrived at Petropavovsk, a week ago Thursdays. It is presumed he is being delayed by bad weather.

GRAVE EXHUMED TO POSITIVELY IDENTIFY BODY

TWO SONS IN MARINETTE, WIS., CHARGED WITH MURDER AND ARSON

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CHARGES FATHER MET VIOLENT DEATH

(By United Press)
Marinette, Wis., Aug. 1.—County officials will open a grave at the Pound, Wis., cemetery, which was closed three years ago in exhuming the body of John Brandt, Sr., so there may be positive identification of the body before the dead man's two sons, William and John, Jr., are brought to trial in connection with the death, charged with murder and arson.

The two Brandt boys were returned here from Milwaukee early today under heavy guard. They were arrested in Milwaukee Wednesday night and after several hours grilling by officials were taken aboard a Northwestern train and brought back here. Under the grilling one of the men broke down but the other remained defiant, while both declared they were innocent of the charges.

District Attorney A. F. Murphy of Marinette county today continued his work on piecing together evidence which he hopes will prove the two sons killed their father by setting fire to the barn on the Brandt farm near Beaver, Wis., in which the elder Brandt was sleeping July 5, 1921.

One of the first steps he will take will be to obtain a sworn and signed statement from Frank Koteski, said to have been a witness of the burning of the barn.

MARION TO PAY TRIBUTE

WILL REMEMBER FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF DEATH OF HARDING

(By United Press)
Marion, O., Aug. 1.—Marion will pay quiet tribute to the memory of the late President Harding at 7 p. m. tomorrow, the first anniversary of his death in San Francisco.

For five minutes the entire town will bow in reverence. The only sound will be the tolling of church bells which are to ring during the five-minute tribute.

Mrs. Florence Kilgus Harding, the late president's widow, has asked that no speeches be made. The Harding tomb will be banked with flowers.

TWO YOUTHS FLEE POLICE AND KILL MAN IN COLLISION

Minneapolis, Aug. 1.—Two youths fleeing from a police gun squad car struck George Fournier, 56, with their machine and sped on until forced into the curbing. Fournier was hurled into the air and died of his injuries an hour later.

The police car driver locked wheels with the murder car and forced it to the curb while several shots were fired into the air. The driver of the speeding car gave his name as William Johnson, 18. He and his 16-year-old companion were held pending investigation.

POLITICAL COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATION

COMMITTEE HEADED BY SAMUEL GOMPERS, PRESIDENT OF FEDERATION

WEIGHT OF HIS SUGGESTION SO GREAT IT MAY BE HEED

(By United Press)
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—The first official step towards endorsement of the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette was taken here today at the opening session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. A report recommending that the governing council advise laborers of the nation as to the casting of their ballots for the independent candidates and against the two major parties was offered by the special political committee.

This committee is headed by Samuel Gompers, dictator of labor politics in the past, and the weight of suggestion is so great it is reasonable to believe it may influence the decision of the entire council.

Consideration of the report is the first business before the council of 11 labor chieftains who assembled here today to recommend to its 3,000,000 voting members which political candidates will best serve the desires of labor if elected.

The final decision of the council is not expected before Sunday.

There is a possibility of a tie in the LaFollette endorsement. Two of the members of the committee oppose such a step and believe the federation should follow a "hands off" policy in the campaign.

The report of the political committee, which goes under the title of the non-partisan political campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor, gives complete sanction to the domestic policies of LaFollette, but it is admitted his foreign policies do not coincide with the federation's desires.

LaFollette is against the League of Nations and the world court, while the federation is strongly in favor of them.

The committee has taken the position that the domestic policies will count in the campaign and therefore disagreement on international matters may be disregarded.

The qualification against the foreign policies of LaFollette platform is the only one the political committee has taken on the endorsement as far as can be learned. The report, however, no doubt will be amended by the full council. Its details have not been made public, but information as to its contents was given the United Press by an unquestionable authority. It will not be given out until the council has acted.

DAVIS TAKES UP CAMPAIGN DETAILS

PLANS TO APPOINT REGIONAL DIRECTORS FOR CHICAGO AND FRISCO

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 1.—Having begun the task of completing his campaign organization, John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, today planned to appoint regional directors for the Chicago and San Francisco offices of the campaign committee and a chairman of the finance committee.

Davis had no engagements today except with Clem Shaver, his campaign manager. The candidate may see Governor Alfred E. Smith this afternoon, again urging him to head the democratic ticket in the Empire state.

Governor Smith has been on a yachting trip but is expected back today, and Davis wants to settle the New York governorship as quickly as possible.

congressional district.

He went to the Philippines as an army captain during the Spanish-American war. Later he was appointed collector of customs at Manila, and after that a judge. He served 15 years on the bench, and then began the private practice of law in Manila.

Mr. Crossfield visited the Capitol, renewing a number of pioneer acquaintances. He will return soon to Manila. He came to the United States as a delegate from the Philippines to the Republican national convention at Cleveland.

Housewives Are Buying Offering by

Canning

The strawberry-canning season has come and gone, and Brainerd housewives are now engaged in preserving peaches, the next fruit to be put on the market.

The Brainerd Fruit Company received a carload of luscious Elberta peaches this morning, and for two days, or until the week end, local grocers will be in a position to furnish this fruit for canning. Dealers state that this shipment is of excellent quality and that the public is making the most of the opportunity afforded by purchasing in crate lots.

Elberta peaches are recognized as superior to other varieties for canning and pickling, and the Brainerd Fruit Company feels that it is very fortunate in obtaining a carload at this early date.

Printers Graveyard, Mausoleum Buries Many Lost Hopes

Hundreds of small newspapers all over the country have given up the ghost for a number of reasons. Lack of support upon the part of people whom they hope to serve, too many papers in field, poor management and many other things, including lack of working capital are causes.

Small print shops over the country are failing steadily because of competition from nearby cities. Large concerns which depend for their profits upon fat political printing, state printing and large orders from large firms, send their agents to small towns to grab the city and county commercial printing where they can get it and to pick up smaller jobs at cost or less as fillers.

Disloyalty to the home paper and the home printers upon the part of the people of the town is gradually forcing many of them out of business.

Men with money today are mighty shy about risking any of it in a newspaper or print shop. The risk is too large for small return. High cost of material and labor and ruinous competition from larger cities make the investment too hazardous for wise investors.

Of course papers will continue to be established in already crowded fields for political purposes. This will be done as long as fall guys can be found to finance them. But such publications never last long.

It is a matter of genuine regret to see a newspaper discontinue publication. It means the wrecking of the

MOVE TO REDUCE COST OF OPERATING ALL RADIO SETS

New York, Aug. 1.—The first move to reduce the cost of operating radio sets came today with the announcement of National Carbon Co. of a substantial reduction, effective today, in the prices of its radio "B" batteries. James R. Crawford, general sales manager, states that the popularity of various multi-tube sets that require additional battery power has made their operation more costly. As one of the leaders in the manufacture of dry cell "B" batteries his company is in position to relieve maintenance costs for the country's millions of radio set owners by reducing the cost of batteries. Development of additional and improved manufacturing facilities, coupled with the growing demand for radio equipment, enable the company to make this reduction.

Statistics show the weather man misses only 12 times out of 100. But the heck of it is he always misses just when you are planning to take in a doubleheader or beat Bill Smith in a golf match.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 1.—Railroad officials here today were investigating reports of threatened mob action on a Texas & Pacific passenger train near the Louisiana state line Thursday night against the alleged occupancy of a berth in a Pullman car by a negro servant of Dr. H. W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan. Railroad officials said that no charges had been filed but an investigation would be held if it was found that the state Jim Crow law which provides for segregation of white and colored passengers had been violated.

TAX REDUCTION LEAGUE

THE Crow Wing County Tax Reduction League has adopted its amended constitution and has now gotten under way. President A. M. Opsahl, elected at the July 28 meeting, was given the position of president, because as chairman of the committee first named by the Chamber of Commerce, he had given much of his time and attention to the matter and had aroused interest in the subject.

How can taxes be reduced? asks the average man. Well, if the average man will apply the question to his household management, he will find the answer. Should your household be required to save, to come within a certain budget, it would probably find certain things which can be dispensed with. It would find where other expenses may be cut down. And it would closely scan the purchasing power of every dollar.

A high tax rate may be necessary some years, but it is not attractive if continued annually. It will cause a newcomer to shy from a town or county. Every homeseeker, whether town or country, turns his eye to the tax sheet.

The Morrison County Tax Reduction League worked slowly but surely and has already chalked down a number of achievements. It has held three mass meetings and these have been discontinued because no hall was large enough to hold the crowd of taxpayers that gathered. A farmers' organization turned over some money to the League for expense money, and that shows clearly what interest the farmers take in taxes.

The Crow Wing County Tax Reduction League charges no membership fee and collects no dues. It is financed by voluntary contributions. That makes it clearly a true citizenship proposition where the labor of one will benefit all, where the labor of the League will no doubt benefit the material well being of every one in the county. It is in such spirit that the League starts its work and hopes to be of real benefit to the entire community. It will work slowly, thoroughly scanning every proposition submitted, hearing both sides of any question. It will listen to advice, to suggestions, to recommendations. Every taxpayer is urged to send in his name to the secretary and become a member of the League.

THE GET-OUT-THE-VOTE CLUB

IN order to assure organized effort to get out the "stay-at-home vote" next November, there has been organized at Washington a "National Get-Out-The-Vote Club." This organization will assist in the formation of local clubs throughout the country, without regard to party lines, all working to the one end of inducing all voters to register and to vote.

Quoting from a review compiled by Collier's Weekly, the new organization calls attention to the fact that the stay-at-home habit is increasing. In 1896, 80 per cent of the qualified voters cast ballots; in 1900, 73 per cent; in 1908, 66 per cent; in 1912, 62 per cent; in 1920 less than 50 per cent.

In a recent statement on the subject, Simon Michelet of Washington, D. C., had this to say: "The fact stands, that the enormous stay-at-home vote of today is sufficient to change the result of the presidential election in a vast majority of states. The stay-at-home army of 25,000,000 can elect or defeat any candidate. Upon the ability and efficiency of national and state committees in mobilizing the stay-at-homes and converting them to active electors hangs many an election."

The women in Minnesota had a get-out-the-vote campaign and in spite of the preparatory work carried on, the results achieved were not very encouraging. It points to the fact that continual agitation will be necessary to rouse the average citizen from his lethargy, to convince him that the salvation of the country lies in an alert citizenship which does its duty at the ballot box, at primaries as well as general elections.

It often happens that the man or woman who has not voted is most free in criticism of candidates nominated at a primary, and who is the first to deplore the quality selected. A republic is founded on the supposition that every citizen will take an interest in his government. If this is not done, then no one can combat the formation of the small groups, selfish maybe in their purposes, who make minority rule effective and impose their will on the great majority, too supine to vote at elections.

TO STUDY BUTTER TARIFF

JOHN BRANDT, president of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, reports that largely as a result of the agitation of his organization the Tariff Commission will begin at once an investigation of the problem of an adequate tariff on butter. This investigation will take precedence over others recently started or contemplated.

An appropriation of $37,000 has been set aside by the Commission for the purpose of this study, which will concern itself with a comparison of the cost of production of butter in the United States and other countries, notably Denmark, Holland and Canada. A careful study will be made by the Commission of the butter industry in Minnesota.

The present duty on butter is 8 cents a pound. Under the recent tariff law the president has the power to increase this amount 50 per cent, which would raise the tariff to 12 cents a pound. The agitation for an increase in the butter tariff was prompted largely by the drop in the price of butter in this country in March, occasioned by large importations from New Zealand and Denmark.

Crow Wing county, where the dairy industry is fairly getting under way and where the Chamber of Commerce has made such efforts to improve the dairy herds, is deeply interested in the success of this Commission's work. Protection is needed for the dairy farmers. We cannot afford to have huge shipments of foreign butter disturb the markets, nor can we afford to admit butter under the present light tariff when the fluctuating exchange may give the foreign seller a further advantage which the home dairyman does not have.

The work of the Commission comes none too soon. It should have all possible leeway.

ONE of the saddest sights of nature is a smart aleck of 18 trying to give the impression that he is a hard-boiled egg, says the Owensburg Independent. This assertion of the Independent stands until one considers the case of the Leopold-Loeb boys.

Walter Hiers and Constance Wilson in a scene from the Paramount Picture "Fair Week."

They Look at Him and Laugh

The tragedy of life for Walter Hiers, star of the picture, "Fair Week," showing at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Saturday is comedy.

"I like to laugh as much as the next one," says Hiers. "I like to make other people laugh, but, dog-gone it! It's pretty tough when your soberest moments, either on or off the screen, inspire merriment."

"I don't mind having a girl turn me down in every picture—that's to be expected with so many Apollos around, but it gets downright gloomy when I get a laugh when I sit down; another laugh when I stand up; a side-splitting roar when I walk thru a doorway."

"One might say that fate is against me—provided you take the fatal final 'e' off the word."

Then there is Charles Ogle, who can always be relied upon to give an excellent character portrayal, in a comic butler's role, and Guy Oliver plays a detective. Medea Radzina, the famous Russian beauty, is excellently cast as an altogether charming young woman who claims that the murder in the picture was com-

Great Cast in "Bedroom Window"

The cast of the William deMille Paramount production, "The Bedroom Window," an original screen story by Clara Beranger, presents a line-up of leading players that is all-star in every sense of the word.

May McAvoy and Malcolm MacGregor are featured in the principal roles of the picture, a gripping mystery comedy-drama, which will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday. Ricardo Cortez also has an important part in the cast, as have Robert Edeson, George Fawcett and Ethel Wales. All are featured.

Brinell Mark

Invisible Values

Now You Can SEE What Makes The Hupmobile So Much Better

Those "invisible costs," that have so much to do with the proverbially solid and substantial qualities of every Hupmobile, are now made visible for you.

Step into our showroom and ask to see the Parts Display.

There are tickets on these parts that tell you in black type what they are for, how they are made and what they are made of.

The same ticket, in red type, tells you a similar story about similar parts in other cars not so carefully and thoroughly made.

If these other cars could match the Hupmobile in excellence and reliability of performance, in durability and economy of upkeep—well, you might then be justified in laying your money down on the "red."

But wisdom says black is the safe and sane color when it comes to investing hard-earned money in an automobile.

It takes quality to produce quality results. See the Hupmobile Parts Display at our showroom.

Safety: Hupmobile, by means of fine materials and determinative tests, provides safety throughout the chassis. The parts shown here—steering knuckle, steering arm, and front axle—are of the finest material that can be used. All are drop-forged steel, double heat-treated, and are unusually heavy. In this group, each individual part for each individual car must pass the Brinell test, within close limits, for proper hardness of material, and bears the Brinell hardness mark.

TAX REDUCTION LEAGUE

THE Crow Wing County Tax Reduction League has adopted its amended constitution and has now gotten under way. President A. M. Opsahl, elected at the July 28 meeting, was given the position of president, because as chairman of the committee first named by the Chamber of Commerce, he had given much of his time and attention to the matter and had aroused interest in the subject.

How can taxes be reduced? asks the average man. Well, if the average man will apply the question to his household management, he will find the answer. Should your household be required to save, to come within a certain budget, it would probably find certain things which can be dispensed with. It would find where other expenses may be cut down. And it would closely scan the purchasing power of every dollar.

A high tax rate may be necessary some years, but it is not attractive if continued annually. It will cause a newcomer to shy from a town or county. Every homeseeker, whether town or country, turns his eye to the tax sheet.

The Morrison County Tax Reduction League worked slowly but surely and has already chalked down a number of achievements. It has held three mass meetings and these have been discontinued because no hall was large enough to hold the crowd of taxpayers that gathered. A farmers' organization turned over some money to the League for expense money, and that shows clearly what interest the farmers take in taxes.

The Crow Wing County Tax Reduction League charges no membership fee and collects no dues. It is financed by voluntary contributions. That makes it clearly a true citizenship proposition where the labor of one will benefit all, where the labor of the League will no doubt benefit the material well being of every one in the county. It is in such spirit that the League starts its work and hopes to be of real benefit to the entire community. It will work slowly, thoroughly scanning every proposition submitted, hearing both sides of any question. It will listen to advice, to suggestions, to recommendations. Every taxpayer is urged to send in his name to the secretary and become a member of the League.

THE GET-OUT-THE-VOTE CLUB

IN order to assure organized effort to get out the "stay-at-home vote" next November, there has been organized at Washington a "National Get-Out-The-Vote Club." This organization will assist in the formation of local clubs throughout the country, without regard to party lines, all working to the one end of inducing all voters to register and to vote.

Quoting from a review compiled by Collier's Weekly, the new organization calls attention to the fact that the stay-at-home habit is increasing. In 1896, 80 per cent of the qualified voters cast ballots; in 1900, 73 per cent; in 1908, 66 per cent; in 1912, 62 per cent; in 1920 less than 50 per cent.

In a recent statement on the subject, Simon Michelet of Washington, D. C., had this to say: "The fact stands, that the enormous stay-at-home vote of today is sufficient to change the result of the presidential election in a vast majority of states. The stay-at-home army of 25,000,000 can elect or defeat any candidate. Upon the ability and efficiency of national and state committees in mobilizing the stay-at-homes and converting them to active electors hangs many an election."

The women in Minnesota had a get-out-the-vote campaign and in spite of the preparatory work carried on, the results achieved were not very encouraging. It points to the fact that continual agitation will be necessary to rouse the average citizen from his lethargy, to convince him that the salvation of the country lies in an alert citizenship which does its duty at the ballot box, at primaries as well as general elections.

It often happens that the man or woman who has not voted is most free in criticism of candidates nominated at a primary, and who is the first to deplore the quality selected. A republic is founded on the supposition that every citizen will take an interest in his government. If this is not done, then no one can combat the formation of the small groups, selfish maybe in their purposes, who make minority rule effective and impose their will on the great majority, too supine to vote at elections.

TO STUDY BUTTER TARIFF

JOHN BRANDT, president of the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, reports that largely as a result of the agitation of his organization the Tariff Commission will begin at once an investigation of the problem of an adequate tariff on butter. This investigation will take precedence over others recently started or contemplated.

An appropriation of $37,000 has been set aside by the Commission for the purpose of this study, which will concern itself with a comparison of the cost of production of butter in the United States and other countries, notably Denmark, Holland and Canada. A careful study will be made by the Commission of the butter industry in Minnesota.

The present duty on butter is 8 cents a pound. Under the recent tariff law the president has the power to increase this amount 50 per cent, which would raise the tariff to 12 cents a pound. The agitation for an increase in the butter tariff was prompted largely by the drop in the price of butter in this country in March, occasioned by large importations from New Zealand and Denmark.

Crow Wing county, where the dairy industry is fairly getting under way and where the Chamber of Commerce has made such efforts to improve the dairy herds, is deeply interested in the success of this Commission's work. Protection is needed for the dairy farmers. We cannot afford to have huge shipments of foreign butter disturb the markets, nor can we afford to admit butter under the present light tariff when the fluctuating exchange may give the foreign seller a further advantage which the home dairyman does not have.

The work of the Commission comes none too soon. It should have all possible leeway.

ONE of the saddest sights of nature is a smart aleck of 18 trying to give the impression that he is a hard-boiled egg, says the Owensburg Independent. This assertion of the Independent stands until one considers the case of the Leopold-Loeb boys.

They Look at Him and Laugh

The tragedy of life for Walter Hiers, star of the picture, "Fair Week," showing at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Saturday is comedy. "I like to laugh as much as the next one," says Hiers. "I like to make other people laugh, but, dog-gone it! It's pretty tough when your soberest moments, either on or off the screen, inspire merriment."

"I don't mind having a girl turn me down in every picture—that's to be expected with so many Apollos around, but it gets downright gloomy when I get a laugh when I sit down; another laugh when I stand up; a side-splitting roar when I walk thru a doorway."

"One might say that fate is against me—provided you take the fatal final 'e' off the word."

Here he is at last, Jack Dempsey, the world's greatest fighter, now in pictures. The first of the "Fight and Win" pictures is to be shown at the Lyceum tonight and Saturday.

Great Cast in "Bedroom Window"

The cast of the William deMille Paramount production, "The Bedroom Window," an original screen story by Clara Beranger, presents a line-up of leading players that is all-star in every sense of the word.

May McAvoy and Malcolm MacGregor are featured in the principal roles of the picture, a gripping mystery comedy-drama, which will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday. Ricardo Cortez also has an important part in the cast, as have Robert Edeson, George Fawcett and Ethel Wales. All are featured.

Invisible Values

Now You Can SEE What Makes
The Hupmobile So Much Better

Those "invisible costs," that have so much to do with the proverbially solid and substantial qualities of every Hupmobile, are now made visible for you.

Step into our salesroom and ask to see the Parts Display.

There are tickets on these parts that tell you in black type what they are for, how they are made and what they are made of.

The same ticket, in red type, tells you a similar story about similar parts in other cars not so carefully and thoroughly made.

If these other cars could match the Hupmobile in excellence and reliability of performance, in durability and economy of upkeep—well, you might then be justified in laying your money down on the "red."

But wisdom says black is the safe and sane color when it comes to investing hard-earned money in an automobile.

It takes quality to produce quality results. See the Hupmobile Parts Display at our salesroom.

Safety: Hupmobile, by means of fine materials and determinative tests, provides safety throughout the chassis. The parts shown here—steering knuckle, steering arm, and front axle—are of the finest material that can be used. All are drop-forged steel, double heat-treated, and are unusually heavy. In this group, each individual part for each individual car must pass the Brinell test, within close limits, for proper hardness of material, and bears the Brinell hardness mark.

French Designers Have Pro- vided Wonderful Array of Wearables.

It is usually interesting, sometimes amusing, often instructive, to observe the Parisian interpretation of American taste in dress as it is illustrated in the French models designed to intrigue the fancy of women of fashion on this side of the ocean, says a fashion writer in the New York Times. Anything bearing the stamp of a Paris designer is no longer guarantee of its acceptance here, and styles are obviously modified or especially built to please a larger audience than a French one.

Sometimes the result is felicitous, sometimes otherwise and some strange ideas are expressed in the creations that emanate from Parisian ateliers, to live for a day, a season, or longer. Fortunately, the accepted authorities differ sufficiently in individual expression to present many different modes, and it is quite simple to find among them one's own type or something of which to create a style of one's own.

One couturiere employs plaiting so successfully as to give it a vogue. Another lends distinction to the severely straight plain silhouette, already accepted, by illustrating in it the most beautiful materials. Some one else, as Mme. Vionnet keeps to the simple graceful draperies for which she is known; or, as Calot, makes a feature of a scarf or a sweeping train.

This season has brought out some of the most engaging styles seen in many years, models of beauty and artistic value, in fine fabrics and charming colors. Extremes and extravagances have been avoided. More emphasis has been given to lines and ensemble and to considerations of suitability by such houses as Drecoll, who cleverly demonstrates the possibilities of the circular flounce; Lanvin, who is translating quaint fashions of the Eighties; Premet, whose straight simple outing frocks are one of the outstanding successes of the day; and Louise Boulanger, who lengthens her lines and drapes with consummate grace her evening gowns of metal lace and chiffons.

Each of these and the others well known to women of fashion have some mark by which their models are known—a collar, a belt, a garniture, or other detail. Occasionally one shows an originality very chic, as for example, the little red seals with which Yteb—that gifted Russian woman of noble ancestry who employs her talents in dress design—points up some of her simpler daytime frocks.

Accessories Are Important.

Accessories of costume are of the greatest importance this season. Plainest of nondescript gowns will serve to illustrate the charm of the scarf that is just now having a vogue and is shown in an incredible variety. Scarves of every color and shade and every combination of colors under the sun, and in all the possible materials, constitute one of the most important sections of every shop, large or small.

There are scarves of woven jersey, with one side in "loud" blocks or stripes, and the other a plain color, repeating one of those in the pattern. These, some quite heavy, replace the angora and the knitted wool mufflers

AMERICAN GLOBE-CIRCLING FLYERS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND

The American round the world flyers recently reached Croydon, England and received a warm British welcome. The air men made a successful trip from attached, usually of a plain color, faced with the material of the dress itself, and forming a part of the costume. Some strikingly gay scarves of silk are formed of two or three colors sewn in strips; one, for example, being of white, scarlet and black, one strip of each forming an 18-inch-wide scarf suggestive of the race and other sports events.

Mrs. Mac Laren, wife of Squadron Leader Mac Laren, congratulating Lt. H. Smith in charge of the globe-circlers, and the other men.

They are quite fetching with the white flannel suits that are so smart, now, and will add snap to any plain-colored suit. They are best, however, with all white or black.

Needlework and designs from many countries are used in the latest scarves. Those in the lighter fabrics are particularly ornate. The art of Spanish, Hungarian, Ukrainian, Czech-have the most popular appeal, is the Russian. The peasant embroideries and cross-stitch which are seen in gowns and blouses are used less on scarves than the painted and printed pattern. These are the work of artists of the highest order, some of them persons of distinction in their own country, whose change in condition has brought their work into the market of up-to-date dress.

Among the evening scarves are misty tulle, bordered with ostrich, and chiffons embroidered in gold and silver thread or the finest flosses. This fairy-like combination of tulle and feathers or fur is very popular.

Russian Designs Are Liked. The feeling for Russian design and color, which is increasing steadily, is delightfully expressed in the blouses and tunics that are now fashionable. For activities in the open, and for all informal occasions, the overblouse is indispensable. A separate skirt, plaited or plain, with an overblouse done in Russian cross-stitch or embroidery, is the ultra-smart outfit for sports wear, and is even more popular, particularly in the flannels, jerseys and other sports material, than the comfortable one-piece or coat dress.

It is acknowledged to be a white season, and the best shops are offering quantities of stylish skirts in white kasha cloth, flannel roshanara, flat crepe or knit goods, to be worn with the new smart, long-waisted overblouses. These were never more attractive than they are now, and the models are of every possible type. There are tailored blouses, almost like the old middie—a slip-on, with open neck, wide collar and short sleeves. Usually a small pocket on the left side and a cravat tie are embroidered with the monogram or some other motif. Some smartly gowning women have their crest embroidered in color on their white tailored overblouses, or on those of any plain color.

Overblouses of the "dresser sort" are ornate affairs. The colors in which they are shown are enchanting. There is a craze for powder blue, and many beautiful models are embroidered in a delicate tracery with gilt or silver, and some in a darker shade of blue, which is a strikingly smart combination.

A good bit of Persian, Turkish, Armenian needlework is seen on these blouses in metal threads and of fine pattern. One model shown by an importer of Parisian novelties is knee-length, of French blue and on it is a deep V-shaped yoke in a soft shade of rose. This and the round neck and sleeves are trimmed with a narrow border of of the earlier season. Gossummer weight scarves are woven or knitted of pretty colors, in plaids, checks, stripes, mixtures of any of the new colors that have been brought out in the latest things.

These light downy scarves, and those of soft silk and crepe, especially the new romantically named Molly-O crepe, are for utility as well as for the dressy effect they give. They are worn with one-piece gowns, with the tailors, with morning or afternoon dress and for sports.

Many of the French frocks of voile, foulard, crepe, or whatever, have scarves

Animal Feuds Spring From Various Causes

That animals carry on feuds with other animals is a fact known to natural history authorities; but most animals are prone to avoid hostilities that will lead to nothing but wounds.

Most creatures fully comprehend their own powers and those of others capable of inflicting injury, and they are unwilling to risk possible hurt or even engage in violent effort to little purpose. Thus, declares a writer in the Scientific American, the puma and the bears, though undoubtedly possessing a hatred for each other due to their seeking similar game, hold a truce rarely if ever broken.

Feuds between different species, one or both of which threaten the safety of the other's young, are not uncommon, and this is the chief cause of such hatreds as exist between the wildcat and the wolf, the mink and the fox, the raccoon and the weasels. The enmity that the crow displays toward the hawk is an example, and it shows also by the suspicion with which all herbivora regard members of the larger felines and canines.

Among the reptiles certain feuds

exist that are more difficult to explain; such is the king snake's desire to destroy all poisonous and some non-poisonous species larger and seemingly more powerful than itself, says London Tit-Bits. Nor is it understood why the rattlesnake shows a readiness to inflict its horribly aggressive defense upon dogs, cats, larger birds and humans, and regards with indifference the nearness of horses and cattle, unless trodden upon. Its enmity for the hog is natural enough.

It may seem strange also, considering the small intelligence with which we credit reptiles in general, that the skunk and some snakes readily distinguish from carnivorous animals deer and cattle to feed upon the flies that they attract.

Onion Soup

1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet; 5 large onions; 1 tablespoon finely minced carrot; 3 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful flour; 3/4 pint boiling water; salt and pepper to taste; 3 bouillon cubes; 1/2 cup thin cream. Peel and parboil onions for 3 minutes, drain and chop fine, place in saucepan with carrot and butter and simmer 5 minutes. Add flour, stir and add boiling water, salt and pepper and cook slowly a half hour. Strain, add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add Kitchen Bouquet and cream. Place several pieces toast in tureen, pour over soup and serve at once.

Mock Terrapin Soup

Boil 1 1/2 pounds of calf's liver in salt water for half an hour; add small herbs; 6 grains of pepper; one teaspoonful cloves; a few slices of onion, carrot, etc. When the vegetables are done, take them out and mash by putting them through a colander. Make a Spanish sauce by frying bacon; put into the fat a little slice of onion, 6 peppers, two sprigs celery, one-half cup tomato and cook brown. Make a paste of one teaspoonful of salad oil, a yolk of hard boiled egg, dust of cayenne pepper, make into small balls; put these into Spanish sauce, then put the sauce into the soup. When they come to the top, skim them out. Add 1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet. Put in the tureen a slice of lemon, and pour in the soup, then cut the calf's liver into small bits and add it.

Savory Chowder

1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet; 1 qt. diced raw potatoes; 1/2 lb. chipped beef; 4 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful corn; 1 medium-sized onion, chopped fine; a small piece of red pepper; 1 1/2 cupfuls hot milk; 2 cupfuls hot water. Put butter, onion, meat and some of the potatoes in the saucepan and fry golden brown, then add hot water and the rest of the potatoes and pepper. Stew slowly till done, about 1 hour. If one uses green corn, score down the rows of kernels and scrape out the inside. Cook this in a little water separately, being careful not to scorch it. When the other mixture is done, add the hot milk, corn, Kitchen Bouquet and salt to taste. Let boil up once and serve hot with crackers.

have the most popular appeal, is the Russian.

The peasant embroideries and cross-stitch which are seen in gowns and blouses are used less on scarfs than the painted and printed pattern. These are the work of artists of the highest order, some of them persons of distinction in their own country, whose change in condition has brought their work into the market of up-to-date dress.

Among the evening scarfs are misty tulle, bordered with ostrich, and chiffons embroidered in gold and silver thread or the finest laces. This fairy-like combination of tulle and feathers or fur is very popular.

Russian Designs Are Liked.

The feeling for Russian design and color, which is increasing steadily, is delightfully expressed in the blouses and tunics that are now fashionable. For activities in the open, and for all informal occasions, the overblouse is indispensable. A separate skirt, plaited or plain, with an overblouse done in Russian cross-stitch or embroidery, is the ultra-smart outfit for sports wear, and is even more popular, particularly in the flannels, jerseys and other sports material, than the comfortable one-piece or coat dress.

It is acknowledged to be a white season, and the best shops are offering quantities of stylish skirts in white kasha cloth, flannel roshanara, flat crepe or knit goods, to be worn with the new smart, long-waisted overblouses. These were never more attractive than they are now, and the models are of every possible type.

There are tailored blouses, almost like the old middie—a slip-on, with open neck, wide collar and short sleeves. Usually a small pocket on the left side and a cravat tie are embroidered with the monogram or some other motif. Some smartly gowned women have their crest embroidered in color on their white tailored overblouses, or on those of any plain color.

Overblouses of the "dresser sort" are ornate affairs. The colors in which they are shown are enchanting. There is a craze for powder blue, and many beautiful models are embroidered in a delicate tracery with gilt or silver, and some in a darker shade of blue, which is a strikingly smart combination.

A good bit of Persian, Turkish, Armenian needlework is seen on these blouses in metal threads and of fine pattern.

One model shown by an importer of Parisian novelties is knee-length, of French blue, and on it is a deep V-shaped yoke in a soft shade of rose. This, and the round neck and sleeves are trimmed with a narrow border of

Animal Feuds Spring From Various Causes

That animals carry on feuds with other animals is a fact known to natural history authorities; but most animals are prone to avoid hostilities that will lead to nothing but wounds.

Most creatures fully comprehend their own powers and those of others capable of inflicting injury, and they are unwilling to risk possible hurt or even engage in violent effort to little purpose. Thus, declares a writer in the Scientific American, the puma and the bears, though undoubtedly possessing a hatred for each other due to their seeking similar game, hold a truce rarely if ever broken.

Feuds between different species, one or both of which threaten the safety of the other's young, are not uncommon, and this is the chief cause of such hatreds as exist between the wildcat and the wolf, the mink and the fox, the raccoon and the weasels. The enmity that the crow displays toward the hawk is an example, and it shows also by the suspicion with which all herbivora regard members of the larger felines and canines.

Among the reptiles certain feuds

exist that are more difficult to explain; such is the king snake's desire to destroy all poisonous and some non-poisonous species larger and seemingly more powerful than itself, says London Tit-Bits. Nor is it understood why the rattlesnake shows a readiness to inflict its horribly aggressive defense upon dogs, cats, larger birds and humans, and regards with indifference the nearness of horses and cattle, unless trodden upon. Its enmity for the hog is natural enough.

It may seem strange also, considering the small intelligence with which we credit reptiles in general, that the skunk and some snakes readily distinguish from carnivorous animals deer and cattle to feed upon the flies that they attract.

KITCHEN BOUQUET

Made from fresh vegetables. Gives rich flavor, color and taste to all home cooking.

Onion Soup

1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet; 5 large onions; 1 tablespoon finely minced carrot; 3 tablespoons butter; 5 tablespoons flour; 3 1/2 pints boiling water; salt and pepper to taste; 3 bouillon cubes; 1/4 cup thin cream. Peel and parboil onions for 3 minutes, drain and chop fine, place in saucepan with carrot and butter and simmer 5 minutes. Add flour, stir and add boiling water, salt and pepper and cook slowly a half hour. Strain, add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add Kitchen Bouquet and cream. Place several pieces toast in tureen, pour over soup and serve at once.

Mock Terrapin Soup

Boil 1 1/2 pounds of calf's liver in salt water for half an hour; add small herbs; 6 grains of pepper; one teaspoonful cloves; a few slices of onion, carrot, etc. When the vegetables are done, take them out and mash by putting them through a colander. Make a Spanish sauce by frying bacon; put into the fat a little slice of onion, 6 peppers, two sprigs celery, one-half cup tomato and cook brown. Make a paste of one teaspoonful of salad oil, a yolk of hard boiled egg, dust of cayenne pepper, make into small balls; put these into Spanish sauce, then put the sauce into the soup. When they come to the top, skim them out. Add 1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet. Put in the tureen a slice of lemon, and pour in the soup, then cut the calf's liver into small bits and add it.

Savory Chowder

1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet; 1 qt. diced raw potatoes; 1/4 lb. chipped beef; 4 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful corn; 1 medium-sized onion, chopped fine; a small piece of red pepper; 1 1/2 cupfuls hot milk; 2 cupfuls hot water. Put butter, onion, meat and some of the potatoes in the saucepan and fry golden brown, then add hot water and the rest of the potatoes and pepper. Stew slowly till done, about 1 hour. If one uses green corn, score down the rows of kernels and scrape out the inside. Cook this in a little water separately, being careful not to scorch it. When the other mixture is done, add the hot milk, corn, Kitchen Bouquet and salt to taste. Let boil up once and serve hot with crackers.

CROP CONDITIONS

CONTINUE GOOD

RYE YIELDS GENERALLY EXCELLENT, SAYS REPORT OF STATE SERVICE

Crop conditions throughout Minnesota are generally excellent, according to the weekly report of the Minnesota Co-operative Reporting service, organ of the federal and state departments of agriculture.

"General weather conditions the past week were favorable for small grains and corn and state conditions, especially for small grains, continue very promising. General crop conditions are not quite as good in the southwestern part of the state as in other sections, the report reads.

"Harvesting of rye is general except in the northwestern part of the state. Yields generally will be good. Harvesting of winter wheat, oats, barley and early wheat is started. Outside of some local sections where grain is lodged the crop is in excellent condition.

"There is at this time no great damage from rust, scab or jointworm. There was some rust on stem near Appleton and other points near there, but the grain is fairly well advanced and the damage probably will not be serious. Field inspection trips in the Red River Valley indicated only very slight traces of rust, with grain ranging from milk to dough stage.

"Corn has made progress as a whole, but the great factor influencing the corn crop is that of frost. If frost holds off and favorable weather continues the crop should generally mature in good shape. If early frosts come there will be much soft corn.

"Late potatoes are in splendid condition. Early potatoes generally are good and harvesting in a commercial way will begin very soon.

"Flax is in good condition, although there are some weedy fields. Pastures are good.

"The second crop of alfalfa hay is being harvested.

"Livestock is in fairly good condition."

A Super-Clay

Brought me beauty and perennial youth

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I look back on a glorious career. First, as a famous beauty. Then for 35 years a stage star. And now, at a grandmother's age, a beauty still, playing a beauty's part.

I owe all that to several factors, but the greatest is a new-type clay. Now I have arranged with druggists and toilet counters to supply it to every woman. I want it to bring to others what it brought to me—multiplied beauty, decades of added youth.

My White Youth Clay

Old clays were crude and muddy. Mine is white, refined and dainty. Old types had one clay—mine has two. There are eleven ingredients embodied in mine, to bring the maximum results.

I owe this clay to men who have given it many years of scientific study. It is a super-clay, amazing in its quick and lasting benefits. I have seen many plain girls become beauties with one application. I have seen older women seem to drop ten years.

Clay is a beauty essential. No girl can look her best without it, no woman keep her youth. Look at France—where girls are all beauties and women all young. That is largely due to clay.

I have no great interest in urging women to use my particular clay. But I do urge them to use some clay. I have found that mine brings multiplied results, but better the old types than none.

The Magical Effects

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs or mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which so amazes and delights. Husbands tell me they hardly know their wives after they use White Youth Clay. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It wards off every sign of age.

I will gladly mail sample if you mail this coupon.

VARIETIES OF HONEY THAT ARE POISONOUS

Some Mystery, but No Doubt, Regarding the Fact.

Honey was eaten in all parts of the ancient world, and the peculiarities of the various kinds were well known. Various kinds of honey were known which were unpleasant to the taste or deleterious in their effects. There was, for example, a Mauretanian honey which was unwholesome, says a writer in the Washington Post. The honey produced in the southeast corner of the Black sea, in the district which lies between Trebizond and Erzerum, was often "maddening" in its effects.

The honey of Hieracleia Pontica, farther to the west, was in certain seasons deleterious. The victim rolled upon the ground in an agonized sensation of extreme heat. Colchis, farther to the north, round the coast of the Black sea, has also fallen under suspicion of producing "maddening" honey.

My friend and colleague, Prof. McLean Thompson, has been kind enough to give me some information. Nothing, he tells me, can be found in the flowering records which can be used as evidence against any of the species of plants, which are quoted by the various authorities to prove that they are naturally poisonous, nor is anything known of the Black sea littoral which provides a basis for the idea that climate determined the poisonous nature of the honey. There are, in fact, no grounds for supposing that there is anything poisonous in the honey itself provided that it is collected normally by a nectar-collecting insect.

"But, in seasons," he says, "when the competition for nectar pollen is intense, many insect types adopt a biting habit, piercing the tissues of many plants of different type, in search of short cuts to food supply, while other types fail to develop this new habit. I have known many insects not drunk, but completely stupefied after a period of flower biting while collecting nectar. From this they recover after periods from 8 to 24 hours. The inference is that in seasons when the biting habit is common, honey may be poisoned frequently by the toxins of plants which have been bitten. I knew of so-called poisoned honey in Liege in a season when the biting habit was very common, and on asking a beekeeper on the point, he said that in 1893, a year also when the biting habit was common, poisoned honey was known."

Butter Long Made

The process of making butter from milk was known at least 2000 B. C. At that time it was used more as a medicine than a food and was frequently rubbed on the body.

Every year every family of your acquaintance spends about 70 per cent of its income just for living, exclusive of rent—so economic experts tell us. Think what this means—seven dollars out of every ten invested in food, clothing, household utilities and all the multitude of things that keep a family comfortable and happy.

It's a big job to spend so much money wisely and well. It requires careful business methods to get the best possible returns from each dollar that leaves the family purse.

The clever woman goes for help to the advertisements of her daily paper. There she finds a directory of buying and selling. She learns about the offerings of merchants and manufacturers. She compares values. She weighs quality and price. She takes this opportunity of judging and selecting almost everything she needs to feed, clothe, amuse, instruct and generally bring up her family.

FREAK WORK OF THE STORM

Lightning Played Pranks at New Home Constructed by Andrew Peterson, 809 3rd Ave., N. E.

SPLIT CEMENT FOUNDATION

Shoved Ahead Some Four Feet a Section of Wall Weighing Two Tons

One of the freak results of Tuesday night's storm was the damage done by lightning to the home of Andrew Peterson, under construction at 809 Third avenue Northeast.

Mr. Peterson has a full basement under the house, a concrete foundation and the framework of the dwelling erected and enclosed.

The lightning seems to have followed down the south side of the house without doing any damage until it came to the cement foundation. Here it made up for lost time, splitting the south side foundation into four parts, it moved two of these parts out into the basement about four feet. The portion that was moved this distance is estimated as weighing close to two tons.

This damage will necessitate the removal of the south side of the foundation, the making of new forms and the pouring of a new cement foundation.

STATE GETS $780 TAX FROM ESTATE OF GAMBLING PRINCE

St. Paul, Aug. 1.—The will of the late owner of the world's largest gambling house has been filed with Minnesota's secretary of state.

It is the testament of Albert Honore Charles Grimaldi, Prince Souverain de Monaco, Albert the First—in other words, the Prince of Monaco—who died in Paris June 26, 1922.

Filing of the will permits state authorities to compute the inheritance tax due the state as a result of ownership of the late prince of 500 shares of Great Northern railroad stock. Estimated value of the stock is $44,343 and the state tax will be $708.

During the war the alien property custodians of Great Britain and the United States seized properties of Prince Albert the First, including the railroad stock. Great Britain has relinquished its claims. When the United States takes similar action, according to state officials, Minnesota will receive its share of the taxes on the estate.

NOTICE

School District No. 68 will receive sealed bids up until August 8th for reshingling school house. Old shingles must be cleaned up and piled on grounds. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

JESS BRITTON, Clerk.

PERMANENT FLAG DECORATION PLAN

Committee From American Legion Reports Excellent Progress Has Been Achieved

100 FLAGS, ETC., BEEN SOLD

Decorating Equipment Described, Metal Holders to be Set in Cement Curb

The committee from the American Legion, in charge of permanent flag decoration for the city, reports excellent progress made in the first days of the campaign to install flag equipment along the curbs on all of the downtown streets. One hundred and nine flags, with poles and curb sockets have already been sold, the committee reports.

The flags are sold to the business houses at cost, which includes the installation of the metal holders in the cement curb. At such times as it may be desired to decorate the city all that is required is to insert the flag-pole in this holder, which takes but a moment. The flag-poles are twelve feet in height, long enough to permit of half-masting the flag, should occasion demand.

It is hoped to sell enough of this equipment to place flags twenty-five feet apart on each side of all of the downtown streets, which would make an imposing patriotic display when all are in use.

The committee will continue the campaign until all of the streets have been equipped.

CASE OF BASEBALL VS. GOLF AND TENNIS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if." That is the saving grace of baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again. But a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks stab their toes, all seven of their competitors will "put the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who, before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The poor, old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brains and a band of "has-beens and never-wases," fitted only for the old folks' home. They turned the Giants loose in the cellar and invited seven other clubs to go eat them up.

Well, the Giants are breezing along in front and look certain to cop. Cincinnati, picked by many to beat the Giants and be in the series, has failed. When Grover Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blow. The Pirates pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Giants.

On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled: "Play ball!" in April. Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When Fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is armor-plate. If there was any bad luck that "Jack" Hendricks, Reds manager, didn't get, it was being saved up for the presidential race. Pitchers were wrong, infielders cracked bones, a black cat attended every game and sat on the Reds' bench.

The fact is that golf and the motor-car is increasingly threatening the so-called "national" game. On a recent Sunday, with the Browns as opponents, the Yanks played, under a perfect sky, to almost as many vacant as filled seats.

The links were crowded, the tennis courts had huge waiting lists and the country roads were thick with everything from Ford's fleas to the most expensive importation.

Maybe this was why the Yanks and Browns couldn't fill the stadium.

But, meanwhile, Cincinnati is to have a new semi-public golf course that will give more thousands a chance to play, not watch. Some of these days public or semi-public golf courses will be as plentiful in and around the big cities as tennis courts are now, and if houses are in the way, they will simply be moved.

TOURNAMENT

INCLUDING $5 GOLF
BAG

TOURNAMENT COMMITTEE E. J.
EGAN, CLEM RYAN, DR.
W. A. ERICKSON

The Brainerd Country Club has an interesting tournament scheduled for Saturday, in which ten dollars worth of prizes, including a five-dollar golf bag, are to be awarded.

The committee in charge of this tournament states that not many of the local players have as yet signed up for the event, and it is hoped that the majority of the club members will participate.

None of the ladies are among those who have signed up to play, and the committee is anxious that they be included as well as the men. The ladies are asked to get in touch with Dr. W. A. Erickson, and arrange to enter the tournament.

The men who have not as yet signified their intentions of participating should do so by notifying E. J. Egan, Clem Ryan or Dr. Erickson before Saturday noon.

Any player winning one prize in the tournament will be barred from any of the other prizes, thus spreading the awards among the greatest number of players.

The grounds keeper is putting new gravel on the greens today, and promises to have them in perfect condition for play on Saturday.

A list of the prize winners in this tournament will be published in the Dispatch early next week.

20 Acres of Land Added
to U. of M. Sport Plant

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 1.—Twenty acres of land are to be added to the University of Michigan's athletic plant before college opens next fall, Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics, announced today. The new field is to be used for the intramural program, the old field to be devoted principally to varsity and freshman athletics.

Two more concrete tennis courts also are to be built this summer for the use of varsity tennis men. To accommodate the increasingly growing demand for seats at the basketball games, another gallery is being added to Yost field house that will increase the seating capacity to 10,500.

JOE ROBINSON

POTOMAC PUBLIC PARK
LINKS

Washington, Aug. 1.—Golfless Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, who was expelled from the exclusive Chevy Chase Club for punching a fellow-member during a golf match, is believed to be considering more democratic surroundings where a punch doesn't mean much between friends.

The battling senator yesterday was seen giving the "once over" to the East Potomac Public park course where the great golfing hoipolot of Washington satisfies his desires, but he didn't say whether he will or won't. Robinson arrived at the course half an hour after President Coolidge inspected it, possibly to make sure that it was safe for democrats. The course is under the administration of the military.

New York, Aug. 1.—"Records," said Babe Ruth, "were made to be broken."

And breaking them is something the Bambino does nothing else but. He broke another one yesterday out in hot St. Louis where he hit his fourteenth homer for the month of July—one more 4-ply smack in a month's span than ever was smacked before in the history of modern baseball. In 1921 during June he hit 13 homers.

The Babe is away on a merry chase after his season homer record. He is nine round-trips ahead of where he was last year and but five behind where he was at this time in 1921.

Jack Johnson to Try
Comeback in E. Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Li'l Artha of the wide golden smile, is about to fight his way back to the heavyweight championship of the world—at least that's his story. Li'l Artha—Jack Johnson—announced he would fight Tut Jackson, also an ebony fighter, in East Chicago on Aug. 15. The fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, no decision.

"But this decision stuff don't mean anything," Johnson said. "There is going to be a decision and it's going to be given by this," and he doubled up a hamlike right, which in the old days spelled destruction.

Johnson said he would start training right away. Although he is 46 years old, Jack does not carry such a heavy load around the waist and he is confident of being able to get down to fighting trim.

Babe except that he should fail to astonish us once in a while.

Incidentally he might lead the league in batting as well as in home runs and long drives and a few other things, although chances are that he wishes to go after a new mark for homers he will have to sacrifice something.

Jack Johnson to Try Comeback in E. Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Li'l Artha of the wide golden smile, is about to fight his way back to the heavyweight championship of the world—at least that's his story. Li'l Artha—Jack Johnson—announced he would fight Tut Jackson, also an ebony fighter, in East Chicago on Aug. 15. The fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, no decision.

"But this decision stuff don't mean anything," Johnson said. "There is going to be a decision and it's going to be given by this," and he doubled up a hamlike right, which in the old days spelled destruction.

Johnson said he would start training right away. Although he is 46 years old, Jack does not carry such a heavy load around the waist and he is confident of being able to get down to fighting trim.
